College Training in International Diplomacy Stressed by Senator Thye

The need for college training in international diplomacy and the dangers of America's deficit finances were stressed by Minnesota's Senator Edward J. Thye at a UMD convocation last Thursday.

The Republican senator was introduced by Andy Larson, member of the Democratic-Republican forum which sponsored the convo.

"World leadership is ours," said Senator Thye. "But the know-how that has made us great in agriculture and industry is lacking in our international diplomacy."

He noted that if the effort our colleges have put into science during the past thirty years had been applied equally to the field of international political diplomacy, we, today, would be able to bring people to our side.

"Look at the billions we spend to do this now," the former Minnesota governor said. "Yet we can't buy the goodwill of men. We've failed in the art of winning the heart and mind of man. If we are going to remain free in the future, we must give more to this art and to religion."

"Poor diplomacy may launch us into a shooting war, and though we know we'd win militarily, we would lose financially due to the cost of occupation and rehabilitation of our enemy."

Turning to America's defense

Prom Convocation Scheduled April 17

The big name orchestra which will play at the UMD Prom, May 23, will be announced at the annual Prom convocation in the auditorium on April 17.

Dick Wallin will serve as master of ceremonies. Several talented acts will constitute the program.

program and the "staggering" money requests of the armed services, Thye charged that we cannot possibly afford this deficit finance.

"Our armaments race with Russia is bleeding our economy white. Excessive taxation destroys the ability to save money and to enter into venture capital. And not a thing has been achieved in America except through this venture capital."

He called for stringent money handling and more popular interest in the international situation as being two vitally needed elements in America today.

Election Plan Slate Listed

Nominations for council and class officers will open today and will remain open until 2:00 p. m., Tuesday, April 22, according to chairman Len Wheat. Nancy Jensen, Willard Misfeldt, and Don Evensen were appointed to supervise the elections.

The Council president must be at least a junior by next fall quarter, while all students are eligible for the positions of members-at-large. Three members-at-large will be chosen.

Nominations are to be submitted to Room 213, where nomination forms are available. Nomination blanks need not be signed as in previous years.

The class officers to be chosen are a president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer for all three classes.

The final election will terminate the general election week, which is scheduled from April 28 to May 2. All campus organizations are to elect officers by the end of that week at the latest.

Sundquist, McDonnell Star in Musical Comedy Highlight of "Foullies" Show

MISS WAINSTOCK

Have you seen "South Pacific?" Well, you haven't seen anything yet until you see "North Atlantic," a one-act musical comedy which will be presented tonight as the featured act of the fourth annual ROTC variety show, "The Foullies of 1952."

"North Atlantic," an original production with book and lyrics by Herbert Taylor, depicts in a satirical vein the trials and tribulations of a newly-commissioned ROTC graduate at an ice-bound air base in the far north.

The 45-minute play is divided into three scenes and includes eight musical numbers. It will be fully costumed and lighted, and performed in a specially constructed setting. Music will be provided by Paul Johnson and Grover Sayre.

The cast of seven includes Don Sundquist and Kay McDonnell in the leads, and Gary Larson as Captain "Jets" Farnsworth, egotistical villain of the piece. Kenny Miller, Jerry Cook and Bernie Dinner are a trio of ne'er-do-well airmen who provide comedy highlights. Producer-director Herb Taylor plays Major Nye, the narrator.

Featured acts on the show include the "Bag-O-Weenie" quartet, a four-man brass combo who do physical and musical violence to the classics. Terry Evanson heads a group of instrumentalists who will provide musical continuity as well as presenting an act. Featured vocalist with the orchestra is Miss Joyce Larson. The comedy team of Heim and Taylor rounds out the entertainment.

Climax of the show will be the crowning of Sweetheart IV of ROTC by Miss Sybil Wainstock, currently reigning Sweetheart of the Corps. Attendants Claire Leraan and Ruth Parker will assist her in the ceremony.

Selection of the new Sweetheart will be made after each of the 16 candidates, accompanied by a military escort attired in Air Force "blues," white shirt and black bow tie, is presented. Two runnersup, to serve as the Sweetheart's court at all ROTC activities during the coming year, will also be chosen.

The judges are: Jay Lurye of Jay Lurye Enterprises; Donald Dahl, KDAL radio announcer; Charlene Hoene of the Arthur Murray dance studios; Miss Eugene of the Eugene Charm school; and Mr. Dumas of the beauty salon which bears his name. A tea, for the purpose of giving the judges a chance to meet the candidates informally, was held yesterday at Tweed hall.

Fifty dollars in cash prizes will be awarded the best acts in the show, and ten dollars and

Navy Cadet Program Offers Opportunities

College men with no immediate plans for their post-graduate future except a tour of military duty have an opportunity for a Naval Reserve commission and an aviator's wings in the Naval Aviation Cadet program, the Navy announces.

The enlisting office for North Dakota, Minnesota, and the Northwest part of Wisconsin, is at the Naval Air Station, Wold-Chamberlain Field, Minneapolis. Interested men can procure applications by mail from that office.

An applicant, to be eligible to fly with the Navy, must have 60 semester hours or 90 credit hours, must be unmarried and remain so during training, must not have received induction orders, and must pass physical and written aptitude examinations.

Flight training requires approximately 18 months, after which Cadets become Ensigns in the Naval Reserve or Second Lieutenants in the Marine Reserve. Four years, including the time in training, is the tenure of service.

Flight Hostess Data Available

Women interested in attending the TALOA Academy of Aeronautics Flight Hostess school may obtain information regarding requirements for consideration for enrollment by contacting Bert Kennerson, TALOA Academy of Aeronautics, Oakland Municipal Airport, Oakland, California.

Pilot, Aircraft Observer Training Applicants Needed

In an effort to obtain 20,000 college applicants for pilot and aircraft observer training in the next few months, the air force has announced an easing of requirements for entering aviation cadet training. The demand for more flight personnel was made possible by the opening of new training bases and an increased need for pilots and observers to man the planes of the rapidly expanding air force.

Men with two years or more of college who are at least 19 years of age may now apply for cadet training at any recruiting station or air base. After a favorable review of their application they will be furnished transportation to the nearest base, where they will be given a flight physical examination by the base surgeon and complete an aircrew classification test battery. These tests can now be completed in one month instead of four.

It was also pointed out that college applicants with a letter of acceptance into the cadet training program may now enlist for two years rather than four.

Aviation cadets in both pilot and observer training receive a monthly allowance of $105, plus food, uniforms, flight clothes, equipment, housing, medical and dental care, and a free $10,000 government life insurance policy that remains in effect throughout their active service.

Graduates receive a commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve with an aeronautical rating as a pilot or aircraft observer, a uniform allowance and a 30-day leave with pay. A second lieutenant on flying status, living off the base, receives $415.75 a month if single, $430.75 if married.

Students interested in additional information on this program are invited to inquire at the AFROTC office, located on the second floor of Tweed annex.

Music Ensemble Presents Concerts

Two concerts by the UMD Early Music Ensemble featured a program at the University of Minnesota last Thursday.

The concerts were presented at Scott Hall and in the auditorium of the Museum of Natural History.

The department of music presented a student recital last Monday at Tweed Hall. Playing in solo roles were Evelyn Schultz, pianist; Ralph Anderson, violinist; Patricia Rood, contralto; Janice Thorne, saxophone; and Marian Homme, pianist. Joel Critzer, Beverly Apter and Barbara Gilbertson were accompanists in several of the numbers.

Women Physical Education Students Attend Conclave

By MARY LEE HUSEBY

Six women physical education students and two advisors spent an interesting and educational between-quarter vacation at the convention of the Central District Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation in Topeka, Kansas. The UMD students who attended the convention were Virginia Christie, Peggy Woods, Joann Johnson, Lois Molstad, Mary Young and Mary Lee Huseby. The student advisors were Dr. Graybeal and Miss Abbott.

Due to heavy snow and blizzard conditions, Miss Abbott and her passengers were delayed in Minneapolis an extra day and encountered hazardous conditions during the entire 700-mile journey, but were greeted with warmth and sunshine in Topeka.

The four-day convention began its first session on March 26 and continued until March 29. Included in the program were lectures and speeches by many outstanding personalities in the field of physical education, among them being Elsie Annis, Mabel Shirely, and Dr.

Harry Scott.

Excellent dance, gymnastic and sport demonstrations were given at several of the section meetings. Guided tours were conducted to the famous Meninger Mental Health Clinic and the Goodyear Tire Company. The evening programs were composed of ballroom and square dancing and a convention banquet.

Many opportunities were provided at the convention for teachers and college students to develop new ideas, discover recent trends in education, view new and better equipment, learn about the educational practices of other schools and get an insight into professional problems which confront the schools.

Among the topics discussed were "Professional Improvement," "Intercollegiate Competition," "Intramural and Inter-Scholastic Competition for Boys and Girls in Secondary and Elementary Schools," "Administrative Expectations of Physical Education Teachers," "School Camping," "Techniques in Football," "Mental Health Progress," and "Problems of the Beginning Teacher."

Film Lecture Convo Tuesday

Switzerland, the land of peaceful beauty often termed the truest example of democracy today, will come to the UMD screen in spectacular color next week.

Robert Friars, international travel photographer, will bring his film lecture to the UMD auditorium in a convocation feature at 11 a. m. Tuesday, April 15. The program will be open to the public without charge.

"Nowhere else are the senses battered by a succession of scenes so stupendous or spectacular," declares the young lens ace.

"But quite lost on many of the travelers to this beauty spot is the deeper meaning of Switzerland. Here is democracy in its truest form—the merger of three language groups into a small democratic nation that survives the chaos that periodically descends upon the countries it borders."

Friars' film will include the grape country, fishing villages, wood carvers, cheese manufacture, winter sports, typical village life, watch making, cable car trips in the mountains, scenes of the Matterhorn and a chair lift trip over the Alps."

A great deal depends on geography nowadays. In the west they like their liquor strong and their women weak; in the south they want their liquor hard and their women soft; but in the frigid plains of Minnesota they want their liquor straight and their women curved.

'YOUR CAREER' SERIES—VOL. II, NO. 1

War Alters Job Picture

By HARRY BRUSELL

Last year, in an effort to give UMD students the "big picture" of career opportunities in a wide range of occupational fields, we introduced in this space a series of articles setting forth current conditions and future prospects in 16 different professions.

Specific jobs covered in the series included those of teacher, office manager, social worker, lawyer, radio-television engineer, petroleum geologist, commercial banker, newspaperman, physical educator, psychologist, chemical engineer, market analyst, medical technologist, export manager, public relations counselor and accountant.

For information on local conditions we interviewed Duluth area leaders in their respective fields, while for job data on a nation-wide basis we referred for facts and figures to the latest edition of "Your Career," a booklet describing, in down-to-earth terms, opportunities in some 84 professions, written by Ed Cunningham and Leonard Reed.

Taking up where we left off nine months ago, we find the employment picture considerably altered by war in Korea and the threat of war elsewhere, by increased defense manpower requirements, by heavier foreign aid commitments, and by an ever-expanding consumer demand. Many jobs considered "surplus" a year ago are now in "short supply," others have remained stationary, while some have declined in importance. The trend is generally upward, however, with "more jobs for more people" the order of the day—particularly in science and technology, in management, and in the armed forces.

Today's armed forces, calling for men and women possessing skills of almost every description, have come to occupy a special position in our national economy—that of maintaining "permanent readiness" for any emergency. And it is this "permanence" which has created a challenging new career field for those with appropriate college training. With this in mind an attempt to present an objective picture of career opportunities in the armed forces will be presented next week.

Tamminen Named Personnel Worker

Armas Tamminen, a native of Iron, Minn., and a former student at Ely and Eveleth Junior colleges, has been named principal student personnel worker and instructor at the University of Minnesota, Duluth branch. He received his bachelor of science degree in 1940 and his master of arts degree in 1949 from the University of Minnesota. He was formerly senior student counselor at the U of M Veterans' counseling center and at one time taught in Eyota, Minn., high school.

New Department Instructor Added

Catherine Gregg, a native of Lorain, Ohio, has been appointed as instructor in the Department of secondary education at UMD during the spring quarter, 1952. Dr. John E. King, provost, announced recently.

Miss Gregg is a graduate of Lorain high school, Lorain, Ohio. She received her bachelor of arts degree from Oberlin college and her master of arts degree from Western Reserve university. She has been completing work on her doctor of philosophy degree at Columbia university.

Miss Gregg formerly taught in the Lorain public school, and at the College of the City of New York as lecturer in education.

She is a member of two honorary education societies, Kappa Delta Pi and Pi Lambda Theta.

Miss Gregg is on temporary appointment concluding with the spring quarter, June 15, 1952.

Gems of Wisdom

By HARRY BRUSELL

Between quarters, while rummaging through an attic full of the usual clutter of broken furniture, forgotten toys and various other miscellany, we stumbled upon a black, leather-bound, dust-covered book with a curious title: "Safe Counsel, or A Light on Dark Corners."

Intrigued, we brought it downstairs for a closer perusal. Although the publication date was missing—indeed the title page, containing the author's name, had been torn out—an illustration of an early automobile and photographs of people attired in the fashions of a bygone day suggested it was written around the turn of the century.

As to its contents, they might be summed up with, "What every young man (and lady) should know." Though some parts of the book are ridiculously out-dated, other portions are sublime in their timelessness.

For example, in describing integrity as a trait of character to be developed, it says, "If integrity were made the pride of the government, the love of it would soon spring up among the people. If all fraudulent men should go straight to jail, pitilessly, and if all the most rigid characters were sought out for political and commercial offices, there would soon come a popular honesty just as there has come a love of reading or of art. It is with character as with any new article—the difficulty lies in its first introduction."

We have only to add, a half-century later, that in our government today character is still like a "new article"—and its difficulty still lies in its first introduction.

But let's get back to the ridiculous, videlicet these "Practical Rules on Table Manners" (marginal notes by yours truly):

Should you find yourself at a table where they have the old-fashioned steel forks, eat with your knife, as the others do, and do not let it be seen that you have any objection to doing so.

Whenever you use your fingers to convey anything to your mouth, let it be the fingers of the left hand (especially if you're left-handed).

Don't attempt to talk with a full mouth. One thing at a time is as much as any man can do well.

Should you find a worm or insect in your food, say nothing about it (maybe it'll go away).

Do not hesitate to take the last piece on the dish, simply because it is the last. To do so is to directly express the fear that you would exhaust the supply.

If an accident of any kind should occur during dinner, the cause being who or what it may, you should not seem to note it (just cuss in silence).

Avoid picking your teeth at the table if possible; but if you must, do it, if you can, where you are not observed (it is suggested that you crawl under the table or place a large napkin over your head—then go to it!)

More of this anon.

ACP OPINION POLL RESULTS

Several weeks ago, we made a survey on the campus in conjunction with the Associated College Press who were conducting a nationwide collegiate opinion poll. Approximately 50 UMD students participated in the poll.

The results from the poll conducted here compared favorably with the replies for the first three questions which have been sent to us by the Associated Collegiate Press. The questions and national results are as follows:

1. Aside from mid-term week and final exam week, how much studying time do you estimate you spend during a normal week?

—Ten hours or less, 28 percent; 10 to 20 hours, 45 percent; 20 to 30 hours, 16 percent; 30 hours or more, 5 percent; don't know, 6 percent.

2. In the Korean truce talks between the United Nations and the Communists, which side do you feel has yielded on more points?

—United Nations, 57 percent; Communists, 7 percent; about even, 22 percent; no opinion, 12 percent; other, 2 percent.

3. The results of a popularity poll for the presidential candidate showed the following:

—Eisenhower, 42 percent; Taft, 15 percent; Kefauver, 12 percent; Warren, 12 percent; Stassen, 8 percent; Truman, 7 percent; Vinson, 2 percent; Reuther, 1 percent; and Humphrey and Ryan, 1/2 percent each.

Results of other questions will be reported when they are received.

ROTC Grads Face Military Call

An estimated 5,000 graduates of the AFROTC will be ordered into active military service within 120 days after graduation this spring, Major General Harry A. Johnson, commanding general of the Tenth Air Force, has announced.

Those to be called include all newly commissioned graduates without prior service who receive their degrees before June 30, 1952.

An additional 1,800 students will have completed the AFROTC instruction by that date but will not be commissioned in the AF Reserve until they complete educational requirements. The majority of these officers will be ordered to active service before May 1, 1953.

Students who have prior service and are scheduled to complete AFROTC training this spring number approximately 3,000. There are no plans at present to call graduates with prior service.

AF Reserve second lieutenants ordered to active military service will be offered an opportunity to volunteer for flying training and for training in civilian institutions in the fields of meteorology, languages, and physical sciences.

Show time is at 8 p.m. tonight, the place: Washington Junior high school auditorium, located at Lake Avenue and 3rd Street.

The annual ROTC Military Ball, one of the big social events of the year at UMD, will be held Friday, April 18, in the Spalding Hotel ballroom. Music, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., will be provided by Chuck Marco, his eight-piece orchestra and vocalist. This dance, at which time the new Sweetheart will be presented with an honorary commission of Colonel by Cadet Col. Robert Leestamper, climaxes the series of events sponsored by the ROTC. Tickets may be purchased from any ROTC student.

Bulldogs Win One, Lose Two on Road

UMD's par-busting golf team got off to an early start this season as they ventured through Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee for ten days, winning one match while dropping two.

In their first match of the season, the Branchmen combined talents with the Minnesota linksters to down Xavier university of Cincinnati, Ohio, 21-6.

Bob Braff, Walt Bida and Johnny Olsen won their respective matches with scores of 73, 74 and 75 over the par 71 course.

The University of Kentucky displayed mid-season form in overwhelming the Duluthians, 17½-3½, as the Wildcats won four individual matches. Bobby Braff shot a five-over-par 77 to lead the Bulldogs.

Olsen (78), Bida (81), Jack Platt (83) and Bob Korsch (83) were all beaten by the much-practiced Kentuckians.

Nashville, Tennessee, was the site of the Bulldogs' final meet as Coach Lew Rickert's quintet dropped a close 11-10 verdict to Vanderbilt university.

Bob Bratt paced the UMD-men with a three-over-par 75. Olsen, Bida and Platt shot 78's.

CORRECTED LIST OF JUNE GRADUATES ON SECOND FLOOR BULLETIN BOARD

Please check today and report any omissions or corrections to M213.

ALL NEW STUDENTS

Those who have not had their physical examinations yet, please report to Health Service, in Washburn Hall, to make an appointment.

GRADUATION SENIORS

Seniors who are planning to graduate in June are to check with the Health Service to see if their records are complete. Seniors are not approved for graduation until physicals are completed.

SENIORS

Seniors who are graduating this June with a BA degree are encouraged to utilize the Placement Service of the Office of Student Personnel Services, Room M215.

Regardless of whether you plan to do graduate work or to serve in the armed service you may wish to eventually call upon the Placement Section for assistance in finding employment. For those planning on seeking a position this June, we already have some excellent leads in which you may be interested.

If you have not registered, do so immediately.

GORDON EDDOLLS,
Office of Student Personnel Services.

EXCUSED ABSENCES

The following students participated in University approved activities which necessitated their absence from classes Thursday and Friday, April 3 and 4: Janet McEldowney, Elsie Ruotsinoja, and Herbert Martin.

In keeping with established University policy, work missed may be made up in accordance with the usual procedure in each department or division.

"M" FOR MAGNIFICENT

The "M" club did an excellent job in putting over the recent Duluth appearance of the western division of the hilarious Harlem Globetrotters. President Bob Murray and other members of the letterwinners' organization contributed precious time and energy during two weeks prior to the game, including the winter quarter exam week.

Members of the club didn't piddle around in preparing Duluth for the Trotters' appearance nor in lining up a colossal program. Each and every member put forth his maximum effort, which resulted in one of the most entertaining events to ever be held in the city.

It was quite a project; but then, it's quite a club.

QUOTE

The above-mentioned Bob Murray, an all-MIA conference football end, recently made the following statement over a local radio station when confronted with the fright-provoking microphone:

"I'd rather be facing Gustavus Adolphus' little all-American end, Haldo Norman, than facing this little thing in front of me."

ANYTHING GOES . . .

The Bulldog basketball team came within six points of setting a new offensive scoring record, but they did manage to allow a new defensive mark to be set against them as conference opponents averaged almost 75 points per game. . . . Jim (UJ) Anderson will, in all probability, transfer to Michigan Tech next fall for his senior year. He was chosen second team all-conference football tackle and worked his way up to starting guard on the cage squad. . . . A former Duluth Central and UMD basketball player, Jim Doherty, is now performing for the Whitworth, Washington, collegians. His free throw in the last second enabled the team to advance to the quarter-finals of the NAIB tournament. . . . Hamline's Jim Fritzsche, 6'8" forward, was chosen to the second all-tournament team in the same meet. . . . Austin, Minnesota, high school seems to have a fabulous pair of twins in Don and Dayle Rasmussen. Both boys received all-state football honors as well as all-state basketball posts.

Down around the main campus, it seems like next season's Cowles-coached cage quintet has practically been formed. In addition to the return of Ed Kalafat, freshman sensation Charlie Mencil will team at guard with another freshman, Earl Johnson, for the next three years. . . .

Globetrotter Tilt Proves Profitable For Duluth Branch

The big game sponsored by the "M" Club on March 27 between the Harlem Globetrotters Western team and a team made up of former high school stars of this area proved to be a big success in all ways.

The "M" Club received about $1,200 and the Globetrotters about $1,300.

The game was a crowd pleaser from the opening tip-off, with the Globetrotters pulling some of their usual hilarious stunts such as playing baseball, playing football, messing up the referees and a few others. Their tricky ball-handling naturally prevailed throughout the game.

Pop Gates, one of the favorites of crowds all over, was missing from the lineup during the Head of the Lakes appearance. Gates became ill and was forced to return home, but his place was taken by another famed Globetrotter, Duke Cumberland. Cumberland was instrumental in preparing the Harlem Globetrotter movie.

Defending MIAC Golf Champs Enjoy Extended Southern Tour

By DWAIN GANYO

The defending MIAC championship golf team from UMD opened its golf season with an eleven-day sojourn into the southlands between quarters. Lew Rickert had his five-man team of Johnny Olsen, Bob Korsch, Bobby Braff, John Platt, and Andy Bida on the same green with some mighty good teams in three different states. They matched drives with Xavier University in Cincinnati, Ohio, the University of Kentucky in Lexington, Ky., and Vanderbilt U. at Nashville, Tennessee. The golfing Bulldogs won their match from Xavier and lost to Vandy by less than two points, being humiliated only by Kaintuck.

All of the courses the MIAC champions played on were in excellent condition. Team consensus seemed to be that UMD would have won all three matches had they been replayed a week later. Their southern opponents had been playing some golf all winter and been golfing regularly for over a month.

All the practice the Doggies had was some driving in their own Minnesota gymnasium and that mostly to toughen the hands. The Bulldog team did try to arrive at each destination a day ahead of time so they could get in some practice.

Since this trip was mostly taken by our golfing ambassadors to see if they are strong enough, should we win the MIAC crown again this year, to represent us in the NCAA championships to be held in June at Purdue University the members of the golfing team footed the major cost of the trip themselves.

The Branchmen and Coach Lew left the morning of March 20th, shedding clothes as they went south and spending the first night in Morris, Illinois. Part of one day was spent on Purdue university's campus and golf course in Lafayette, Indiana. Lew Rickert met an old acquaintance of his, Purdue's football coach Stu Holcomb, and introduced him to the team.

In Cincinnati the team went through the MacGregor-Goldsmith plant and saw replicas of their own golfing clubs being created. They also saw the replica of the Athens Greece Parthenon temple in Nashville, Tennessee.

In a card home to his parents, Johnny Olse told of the team spending one night in Tennessee ensconced in a funeral home. The card said, "We had to sleep in beds though, all the coffins were full."

Jackie Platt claimed that,

"All we did at night was go to bed and get our rest," which is probably true since the night this reporter called them when they were back in Duluth, Jackie was the only one home of the five. Kentucky's athletic director took the team through the spanking new $4,500,000 University of Kentucky Coliseum.

The Doggies returned over the same Morris, Illinois, route and thus ended UMD's first golfing swing in history through the southlands.

I-M Kegling Title At Stake Tonight

The defending intra-mural bowling champions, Klo-Kay, and the strong Peterson team tangle tonight at the Pioneer Lanes in the deciding loop contests.

Both teams have won 13 and lost 2, Klo-Kay losing twice to Peterson's, and the latter losing to Klo-Kay and Hansen's.

The Lumberjacks hold all league records, including the team series, team single, individual series and individual high. Holders of the individual records are Donn Swanson and Arne Moilanen. Swanson rolled a 598 and Moilanen a 214 for the records.

SPORTS NOTES

Paul Vesterstein was recently appointed physical education director at the Boys' YMCA in Duluth. He is majoring in physical education here.

Lew Rickert, UMD athletic director, left this week to attend the convention of the American Association of Physical Education, Health and Recreation at Los Angeles.

Be Happy-Go Lucky!

I study hard for each exam,
And all I get is C.
But I get A's on smokers' tests
With L.S./M.F.T.

The play was o'er, the curtain drawn,
The cast was now at ease.
Said seconds, stars and stagehands, too,
"A Lucky, if you please!"

In a cigarette, taste

makes the difference —

and Luckies taste better!

The difference between "just smoking" and really enjoying your smoke is the taste of a cigarette. You can taste the difference in the smoother, mellower, more enjoyable taste of a Lucky . . . for two important reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco . . . fine, mild tobacco that tastes better. Second, Luckies are made to taste better . . . proved best-made of all five principal brands. So reach for a Lucky. Enjoy the cigarette that tastes better! Be Happy—Go Lucky! Buy a carton today!

L.S./M.F.T.-Lucky Strike
Means Fine Tobacco

When politicians rave and rant,
I just sit back and gloat,
For better-tasting Lucky Strike
Will always get my vote!
